Meet SonoSkin™

One of Seven NEW Trainers for 2016

We listened closely and collaborated with our clinical partners to push the boundaries of human realism. Now we are pleased to introduce seven new products that look, feel, ultrasound, cut, suture, and bleed like real human tissue.

Whenever Simulab creates something new or improves current products we ask our team—is this optimized to help improve patient outcomes and reduce medical errors? This focus helps us to design groundbreaking products that meet the future needs of the entire medical community.
